Wednesday, May 21, 1873. "Cabinet Representation." The following extract appeared in the Ottawa Times of the 2nd instant : "In a late edition of the Free Press an article appeared under the caption of 'Cabinet Representation,' which ascribes to British Columbians an ambition to have one of the vacant positions in the Ministry filled by a representative from that Province; and which states that letters have been received from leading men in British Columbia to their representatives here, urging their claims and enquiring whether the Government did not intend, in the election of Sir Francis Hincks for Vanconver, to give representation in the Cabinet to the Pacific Province, adding that a strong feeling of anxiety prevails lest the Government should not keep faith in the matter. While the British Columbians feel a keen interest in their Province and its welfare, they do not wish to have themselves placed in s false position before the people of the Domincontradiction to the statement of the Free Press, on the part of all the members but one from that Province, as to the residual to the residua that Province, as to the receipt of any such letters. As a matter of fact, none such have been received, nor is any distrust of the Government felt in the remotest degree. By whomseever the Free Press was inspired in columns, it was possibly also inspired as to this, and doubtless with equal foundation in both instances." The Times does not give the names of the representatives from this Province who think it would be placing themselves "in a false position before the people of the Dominion at large," by advocating the expediency of having "one of the vacant positions in the Ministry filled by representative from this Province," but seems one of them at least entertains the opinion that it should be so. Why all but one of our members should feel themselves called upon flatly to deny that any feeling prevails in this country in relation to this matter, is best known to themselves—but on this point we have no besitation in stating that they do not speak the sentiments of their constit uents. They must know very well that the opinion has always prevailed here that this Province should, in common with the other Provinces, be represented in the Cabinet, and the reason why nothing to that effect had been said prior to the late changes in the Cabinet, consequent upon the retirement of Sir Francis Hincks, was because the election of that gentleman for Vancouver District gave British Columbia that representation in the Cabines to which she was fairly entitled. The principle of Provincial representation in the Deminion Government was affirmed and acted upon when the terms of Confederation were agreed to, Ontario having five, Quebec five, and Nova Scotia and New Brunswick each two representatives in the Cabinet. The defeat of Sir Francis Hincks in Brant, and Sir Geo. E. Cartier in Montreal, resulted in British Columbia and Manitoba obtaining such a representative in the Cabinet, but owing to the retirement of Sir Francis from Mice this Province has been left without any one to represent its interests in the Executive Comox road.

Council of the Dominion. In view of these Specification facts, why should our representatives at Ot-tawa consider it "a false position" on their part to arge the claims of British Columbia to representation in the Cabinet, seeing that all the other Provinces are so represented? We can understand very well why there might be some disagreement among themselves as to which the ministerial mantle of Sir Francis Hincks should fall upon; but as to the expediency of British Columbia being price.

With each tender must be anclosed the dames of two responsible persons willing to give security for the due completion of the work to the amount of one-half the contract to the expediency of British Columbia being price. therein represented, we do not see very well how there can be two opinions on the sub-ject. It is just as important that the Lands & Works Office, voice of British Columbia should be heard in the Cabinet Council of the Dominion, as that it should be heard on the floor of the House of Commons and in the Senate. Had Sir Francis Hincks not been a member of the Cabinet, and the people of this country felt it a matter of importance to them to have their interests represented by a member of the Government, we think it exceeding doubtful indeed whether the gentlemen who had canvassed Vancouver District would have retired in his favor and premitted him without a contest to take his seat in the House of Commons as the member for that district? There is surely nothing unreasonable in the fact that this Province desires representation in the Dominion Cabinet, and if it be true that all our members, with one exception, have pursued the course with which they are credited by the Times, all we can say they have a very mistaken idea as to what their duty is to the Province they represent and whose interests they were sent to Ottawa to advocate and protect. It is the "ambi-treated by the Government at Ottawa touching this as well as all other matters, and in the remarks made by the Free Press on this subject it spoke the sentiments of the people of this Province from Comox to Cariboo.

The Challenger has been engaged on a highly important mission, as will be seen tion of a road from Nanaimo to Departure from an extract which we take from an Eng- Bay.

THE NEW EXPLORING EXPEDITION.

The extraordinary intelligence received office. from H. M. S. Challauger of the success which has attended the bold attempt to employ an ordinary beam trawl for the purpose of dis-covering the character of the bottom of the sea at depths where it was thought almost impossible for fish life to exist, has taken na-turallists rather by surprise. Even the enterprising investigators thenselves could hard-ly have been prepared for the discoveries which have so quickly rewarded their labors, and the valuable additions which they have already made to the Fauna and Flora of the deep, when the limited space over which these investigations have been presented is considered. It is scarcely possible fully to appreciate the extent and interest of the revalations hereafter to be made, and naturalist will look forward with deep interest to every communication from the Chal eager. The exploration party seem to take great en-couragement from their present success, and are determined to follow up the course of investigation they have so satisfactory commenced. Dr. Hearder, of Plymouth, who supplied the nets and fishing tickle to the expedition has just completed an order for a dozen deep-sea beam trawls of the same size as the one which has been so successful, but with certain modifications which he has considered necessary to adapt them for use at the enormous de, hts of from one to three miles. There will be scope for the employment of great judgement and ingenuity in preserving the specimens obtained at these dephts from the injury in which they will be subjected by the expanses of the elastic fluids and gases con-tained in their tissues on the withdrawal of the enormous pressure to which they are subject in their sative localities. This, as might be expected, was sufficient to burst some of the specimens, and to force the eyes of others from their sockets. Possibly a more gradual withdrawal from these enormous pressures may enable the oxygen, through the agency of the circulation, gradually to accommodate itself to the pressure of the surrounding medium, just as it is necessary to raise men who have been working at great depths in a diving-bell by short and gradual stages to the surface, to prevent the death by apoplexy, which would otherwise occur if they were at once raised through the whole depth.

The Mail referring to the same subject, says, "the three detractors of the scheme are the N. Y. World, the London Canadian News and the Globe. The World has been subsidized out of the coffers of the Northern Pacific the London Canadian News carries its ribe in its columns and though it is a bard thing to say a man has been bribed to des-troy the credit of the country, looking at George Brown's blurred antecedents as he is found in the camp of the enemy, his pockets should be searched for the quid pro quo."

Where the cedars bow to the ruffling breeze Where the moses hang on the tall pine trees, Where the eagles soar in the liquid air, And the panther starts from his forest lair With cunning step.—there the woodlands wave, And the willows weep o'er the red man's grave. Where the streamlet runs to the mighty deep, Where the vipers on the pathways creep, Where the Indian dwells in his forest home,

Where the warriers fought in a deadly feud, Where the vanquished fied from the foe subdued, Where the liquid blood grew red and pale, And the vultures swept o'er the corse strewn vale With lynx-like eyes-there the woodlands wave, And the willows weep o'er the red man's grave. Where the red man fell in the sylvan glade, In full war paint was the chieftan laid; O'er his tomb bung the scalps of his gasping fees. And the waving plumes 'midst these trophies rose: Though absent now—still the woodlands wave,

EASTERN STATES, New York, May 19.—The obsequies of Countess Pourtales, daughter of Ben. Holladay, were celebrated yesterday in the private chapel of the family on the Holladay estate in Winchester County, known as Ophir farm. A special train from the city carried a large company of friends, including several schoolmates of the deceased, to attend the rites and show their respect for her memory and sympathy with the afflicted family. A richly mounted rosewood casket inclosing the remains, rested on a bier bordered heavily with violets, and laden with a profusion of other floral tributes of affection. Madame Holiaday, prostrated by the sudden affliction, was anable to be present. The death of the Countess was not expected so soon even by her immediate attendants, and while seeming to slumber she passed away. When the funeral ceremonies of the Catholic faith bad been concluded, the casket was laid away in he family vault and the friends returned to

The Water Power which is utilized for the conduct of Works, is all that could be desired, and could readily be increased to ten times its present power, if at any time required, either for the purposes of this undertaking, or for any other Manufactory. The supply is derived from Springs on the Estate, is very soft in quality, and is never failing.

Springs on the Estate, is very soft in quality, and is never failing.

In fact the business is in thorough working order, and Mr. Switzer's services as Manager of the Works will be retained upon terms favorable to the Company. The Land consists of $46 acres, known as the Spring Vale Estate, some of which is of excellent quality. The Timber is of considerable value for Firewood, the situation being favorable for easy delivery.

The operations of the Boot and Shoe Manufactory during the past two years have been highly satisfactory. The goods are specially adapted to the requirements of the Provincial trade, have given general satisfaction, and at a profit successfully compete with the imported article.

The sales for 1872 amounted to nearly $30,000, which onsidering the short time the enterprise had been it peration, shows the favor with which the products have en received.

The importations of Boots and Shoes as declared at the Custom House for the year 1871, was about $100,00, representing a selling value, after adding duties, etc., of any $180,000. The importation for last year fell off considerably, the decrease being doubtless partially occasioned by the local production. In addition to the demand for Boots and Shoes, as evidenced by the Customs House returns, the sales of Leather produced at the Tannery have to be taken into account, when considering the entire field for the operations of the undertaking.

The Boot and Shoe Department has for the past two years been carried on under, the management of Mr. Switzer, almost exclusively by Chinese labor, at a small cost, but the recent addition of the Tannery, which was found a necessity, in order to maintain a sufficient supply of good material, has required a considerable outlay, and renders the introduction of further capital necessary for the proper development of the business.

The Tannery operations only commenced in August last, and as the tanning process involves a period of several months, the business of this Department is in its infancy—a very superior article is, however, being produced at low prices by an economical process, and, as there is no difficulty in obtaining an abundant sumply of these is no difficulty in obtaining an abundant sumply of duced at low prices by an economical process, and, as there is no difficulty in obtaining an abundant supply of Hides, the outturn will be sufficient for the supply of the general demand for harness, mill belting, &c., in addition to the requirements of the Boot Factory.

The Belmont Boot and Shee Factory was the first enterprise of its kind established in the Province, and its having been so far carried on with success is an assurance that, as population increases, very remunerative returns will be realised.

The value of industrial institutions to the well being of any country is indisputable, and as the hides produced in the Province are now being manufactured into leather, which in turn is made into Boots and Sho-s, &c., (instead of as formerly being exported, and, the manufactured articles in turn imported,) the saving to the country by the undertaking is sufficiently obvious. It is, therefore, not unreasonable to assume that the advantages which the prosecution of such a reproductive character of the business, have due weight with all who are in any way interested in the prosperity of the Province.

Most smillar undertakings of any magnitude are now worked successfully by joint stock companies, both in Great Britain and in the United States.
